Pearl River Has Record Enrollment

Pearl River Junior High School has a record enrollment for the 1971-72 school year. According to Registrar Al Proctor, the total number of students enrolled is 1,000. This is a record for the school since it was founded in 1912. The enrollment is up from 900 in 1970-71. The school has a steady increase in enrollment for the past 30 years. In 1941 there were 353 students; 1961, 597 students; 1968, 799 students and this year, PRC has a total of 1,000 boys and 400 girls enrolled.

Pearl River is supported by a six county district. Pearl River County has the greatest number of students enrolled with 363; Marion, 188; Lamar, 141; Hancock, 136; Jeff Davis, 56; and Forrest, 113. The largest increase in enrollment was from Forrest County which picked up 32 students. There are 61 out-of-state students and the remaining 101 students are from 13 counties within Mississippi. There are sixteen different religious denominations on campus. The largest group is Baptist with 266; Catholic, 98; Methodist, 90; and 30 unknown. With this fine student body, our excellent instructors, and most adequate facilities, we will have the best year ever at Pearl River. It is the feeling of President M.W. White.

Where Does United Fund Money Go?

The Hancock County Association For Retarded Children

(Report From Mrs. C.R. Beyer, Executive Secretary, Hancock County United Fund)

Did you know your United Fund contributions have entirely supported the Hancock County School for Retarded Children for the past three years, and that these funds were used to pay the expenses of education, with her services, the educable students have been taken into the county school system. The non-educable children will continue to be the responsibility of the United Fund and your generosity. All the children are housed in the newly renovated Clemont Harbor School, which was so badly damaged in Hurricane Camille. And did you know the county school system has a speech and hearing program which will be so helpful to our children as well as to the many children in the county with speech and hearing disabilities.

We are happy to report the remarkable improvement in the retarded children's program, due to the financial support the interested people have shown in the children and their needs. We hope more people are realizing their way forward and the children are continuing to grow, improve and learn.

The Hancock County Association for Retarded Children has worked with the children for a number of years, giving them the best training they can get. The children are now in the county school system, and the United Fund is helping them to continue their education. Letters to the editor

Dear Sir:

I am making this statement not only in my defense, but also in the defense of the many honest, upright people of our fair city.

Several weeks ago at 10:30 p.m. as I was preparing for bed, I heard loud voices outside my window. Looking out toward the police station I saw a gas tank attendant putting gas in a private car.

Immediately after the police car, which was also parked near the gas tank, pulled out, I went to the rear of the car in question and wrote down the license number then immediately called the Mayor.

I didn't call the chief of police because on previous occasions when I talked to him about excessive noise around the station, he always told me to report it to the Mayor because "the Mayor was running the show."

The Mayor then told me that they had been missing gas and now they would have something to go on.

About two days later he called me and said that on checking the car's license plate for ownership, the car belonged to a state policeman and was not the gas tank attendant's car. He said he had no permission to use my name if it became necessary. I readily gave permission because I don't say anything about anyone that I can't put on paper.

The following week after I made the accusation there was a hearing at City Hall. During that week the chief never once tried to contact me nor was I asked to be at the hearing. Consequently the policeman was charged.

In a later discussion over the phone, Chief Goodall told me that he had taken samples of the gas in the car and it definitely did not compare to the gas in the police tank.

The Mayor also told me that the chief took pictures from the gas pump in my yard and made the remark that it was impossible for me to have the information that I presented to the Mayor. So, in effect, Goodall accused me of lying. He also told me this particular car was not parked in the yard when he let the office at about 10 p.m. to go home.

Since the chief admitted to not being on the premises after 10 p.m., how can he accuse me of lying about anything that happened between 10 and 11 p.m.? And since I was the one who gave the Mayor the original information, why wasn't I called to the hearing to back up my statement?

I'm not afraid of the truth or of bringing it into the open. I challenge our chief of police to do the same!

If long life is what you are looking for, you'll find it in Mississippi. According to 1960 figures, the average duration of life for whites was 71.1 years and the average for non-whites was 67.9 years, each greater than the United States average for the respective groups.

FOURTH IN SWEET POTATO ACREAGE

Mississippi ranks 4th among the states in sweet potato acreage harvested and ranks 5th in production. The 1970 sweet potato production of 200,000 hundred-weight was harvested from 11,000 acres.

The world's longest man-made beach is located on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The 1 1/2 mile long beach, known as Biloxi Beach, stretches 2 1/2 miles from Biloxi to Ocean Springs. It is one of the most popular vacation spots in the state.

Local Government In Action

LED NOTE: The following is the second in a series of articles by Echo staff writer Adores Shortle, explaining in detail the structures of the various departments operating under the three governmental bodies - Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

WAVELAND VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

Ken Fayard, chief of the Waveland Volunteer Fire Dept., speaks with pride of the fact that his group is the only volunteer department in the mutual aid organization that reaches from St. Tammany Parish in Louisiana to Gulfport.

The mutual aid organization which was formed some time ago includes the fire departments in St. Tammany Parish, Sibley, Piquette, NASA unit at the Mississippi Test Facility.

Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Christian, Long Beach, Gulfport. All but Waveland are active in the mutual aid organization and he can be contacted at any time.

ORGANIZATION

Fayard has been chief for five years, although there is an annual election of officers. Attending to the value of their performance of duty, they have been re-elected to their respective positions for the past five years. Robert Lucas, president, Don McIntyre, vice president, Gladys Noonan, secretary-treasurer, David Garcia, assistant chief, Lucas also serves as engineer-safety officer and handles all training programs.

Mrs. Noonan has been an active member of the Waveland volunteer department for many years, as with her husband she worked day and night answering calls recruiting members and often drove the truck when no one else was available.

There is a waiting list of applicants for membership. Fayard said, and when there is an opening, a prospective member is screened and voted on by the 21 active members. The prospect is then accepted on a probationary status for three months, during which time he attends all meetings, training drills and participates as an active member. At the end of the 90-day period if he qualifies in all phases of the fire department, he is again voted on by the full membership for acceptance as a full-fledged member.

"This way," Fayard explained, "we can weed out the undependable glory-freaks. The type who only want the badge but don't last long when they're needed."

John Perkins has just been accepted into the department as an active member.

DUTIES
Members of the Waveland fire department work on a strictly volunteer basis and receive no pay, except those who stay in the station at night.

EQUIPMENT
There are two fire trucks housed in the Waveland station. One, a 750-gal. per minute American LaFrance pumper, belongs to the volunteer department, which acquired the 1942 model engine before Camille. In December, 1964, the town acquired a GMC truck which was destroyed in the hurricane. Last year, the city of Waveland bought a 1970 GMC 750-gal. per minute truck with a 500-gal. tank, fully equipped.

The volunteer firemen use the city's truck for most fire calls within the city and the old one as a backup engine. The new GMC is used on all outside calls and mutual aid runs.

There were 24 inches of water in the fire station during Camille, Fayard said, which caused eventual deterioration to the frames and paint work on the metal building. One of the firemen painted the entire outside and most of the interior of the building under interim assistance funding.

TRAINING
Besides the monthly drills, those members who can attend state sponsored fire suppression training courses in nearby areas. Periodically, a representative from the state Fire Prevention department will conduct training classes in Waveland for the volunteers, adding to their proficiency rating.

Waveland Volunteer Fire Department has long enjoyed a reputation as being an efficient, well-organized group which provides constant protection, not only to the city of Waveland but dependably to a wide area beyond the county borders.

ALFALFA
We need to grow more alfalfa in Mississippi and research has shown that alfalfa is one of the most important crops in the state. It is a high-protein feed for livestock and can be used for a variety of other purposes.

FALL PLOWING
Fall plowing has a lot of advantages and is a lot of fun. It helps to break up the soil and prepare it for the next year's crops. It also helps to control weeds and improve the soil's fertility.

SUBSIDIZING AND CHISSELING
Sandy loam, silt loam and silty clay loam soils are generally considered to be good for growing crops. They are easy to work and produce good yields.

Do You Know Your Neighbor?

Two people who add a great deal to the enrichment of life in our community are James and Mamie Drummond. They work at making a living for part of their time, they work all the time at making a fuller and happier life for all.

James Edward Drummond was born in Newton, Mississippi, on September 7, 1930, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Drummond. After graduating from Newton Vocational High, he went into the printing business, working for Max Cornett doing advertising for movies. After about seven years there, he came to Bay St. Louis to do the same sort of work under the supervision of Maurice Argue. After about a year of this, along came the Korean War.

He served in the Army for two years, one year in Korea. He came out of this experience as a sergeant and a holder of the Bronze Star.

After returning home, Drummond attended the General Motors automotive school in New Orleans for two years, and for ten years went back for periodic training courses. For nine of these years he worked at the Chevrolet company in Bay St. Louis. In 1965, he started his own business at his home on the Old Spanish Trail. After "Camille," he built his present Drummond Auto Clinic and Service Station.

Because of his great feeling for the welfare and happiness of other people, he finds the time to take an active part in many civic activities. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the United Fund, the Cancer Fund, and the Credit Union, all of Hancock County. He is a Mason, a member of the Veterans Civic Organization and has worked with the Boy Scouts.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church where he has served as vice-president of the Sunday School and as president of the church's Young Men's Brotherhood. He has served eight years as a deputy sheriff and has had wide experience acting as advisor to parolees from Parchman.

He says one of his greatest joys is being an unofficial listener and advisor to a fairly steady stream of young people who say they don't know what they would do without him. He can be trusted and confided in by family and people alike. He likes to read and write, but doesn't have time for it. He is a "homebody" and likes to be home with his family. He is a "homebody" and likes to be home with his family.

Waveland 4-H Homemakers Hold Meeting
The Waveland 4-H Homemakers group held a meeting at the Waveland station. The meeting was held on Thursday, September 16, 1971. The meeting was held at the Waveland station.

Trumpets In The Morning

by Perry D. Neal, Pastor
First Baptist Church, Bay St. Louis.

Just below the surface of every human being is the tendency. This is sublimated in the Christian, but it is still there. All human nature even when it is sublimated, would really like to live in sin. This is held in check by the SPIRIT OF GOD.

Now, the whole world has lived through years with a hidden feeling that if I could really do what I want to do, I would really be happy. I had a feeling that if I could really do what I want to do, I would really be happy. I had a feeling that if I could really do what I want to do, I would really be happy.

For about eight or ten years now, we have had that. Sex and drugs, a world without law, as pretty much come to the top. For a few years now, we have had what society has always believed - that materialism, education, possessions, money and license would give us happiness. It has failed. Consequently, THERE IS A VACUUM IN AMERICA. The myth that possessions and license and freedom to do what one wants will bring happiness has been exploded. All of a sudden, across our society, across this generation of teenagers, has exploded the awesome realization that there is nothing in life that is a panacea producing happiness. Consequently, there is a void, a lack. People are hungry. They have been stripped naked of everything that promised something. They are hungry. They are wide open for THE GOSPEL.

In the midst of this vacuum, THE HOLY SPIRIT has burst with the truth that JESUS CHRIST, in all of His simplicity, is what this world has always wanted and has always needed.

I contend that teenagers that the world has not rejected JESUS, has not really rejected the church. They really have rejected a caricature of CHRISTIANITY. They have been critical of the church, but I know that most of the services that I see on TV or attend are so stiff and regimented that I feel that something is wrong. This is not the real thing. When I'm a service, there's a LIFE, ENTHUSIASM, JOY, AND FREEDOM. I feel that JESUS can be loved and preached to simply. It seems to me that THE HOLY SPIRIT is saying that the times are short. We must gather our forces quickly. He is

MR. AND MRS. AUGUST LEOPOLD, JR.
Leopold-McFarland Vows Exchanged

A recent wedding of interest in the Gulf Coast area was that of Miss Sarah Dale McFarland, daughter of Dr. Wesley Leroy McFarland and Mrs. Rosemary Rollins McFarland of Bay St. Louis, to August DiPalma Leopold, Jr., of New Orleans.

The candlelight ceremony was held in Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis, with officiating, the Rev. Charles R. Johnson, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, gave the blessing. Vases of daisies, pom poms, gypsophylla and eucalyptus flanked the altar, which was flanked by nine branch silver candelabra with glowing tapers.

Dr. McFarland gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore her sister's wedding gown with a white organza over the neckline, sleeves and forming a panel down the front of the floor-length dress. Her cathedral length veil was held to her hair by a band of lace flowers embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, gypsophylla and English ivy. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Rosemary McFarland Wilkins of Gulfport. The bridegroom's father served as best man and ushers included Wesley Leroy McFarland, brother of the bride, and Ronald Ramond Leopold, brother of the groom.

A wedding dinner was held immediately following the ceremony at the Diamondhead Country Club, for the wedding party and immediate members of both families.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the young couple will be at home in New Orleans. Members of the groom's family attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Engerren, and Mr. and Mrs. H.F. Ramond, of Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Blennu, of New Orleans.

Guests of the bride's family included Mrs. John Russell Rollins, the bride's grandmother, of Gulfport, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Ellis, Jr. and children - of Pass Christian, and Mrs. Charles R. Johnson of Bay St. Louis.

Johnston Infant Baptized

Hit Presented At Little Theatre

by Emily de Montfaucon

More than four hundred theatre goers attended the performance last week of the Little Theatre's production of "Plaza Suite" and twice gave it a standing ovation at the final curtain. In this reviewer's opinion it was an unqualified success, simply deserving the delighted comments and praises it received. Released only last May for amateur production, its presentation was the first of the Gulf Coast and was another example of the effort consistently made by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre to bring the best in current drama to its stage.

In many ways "Plaza Suite" was unusual. For one thing, it was a Neil Simon comedy that really was not comic, even though the audience laughed throughout to the point of exhaustion. Beneath the laughter, however, arose a conviction that the playwright had in fact written a social satire, a mirror for reflecting what he had observed in many a modern marriage, and what he had seen was not at all pretty. "Lord, what fools we mortals be!" wrote Shakespeare, and apparently Neil Simon thinks so, too. The format of the play was unexpected, a series of three one-act plays connected only through the coincidence that all took place in the same suite of rooms in New York's Plaza hotel. A special innovation was the use of one actor and one actress to play the leading roles in all three scenes, necessitating their portrayal of three entirely different personalities in one evening's entertainment. And then the set itself was incredibly authentic, but that deserves another paragraph.

Directed by Earl Barrett, who has produced several of the Little Theatre's plays, such as "The Diary of Anne Frank" and "The Miracle Worker," "Plaza Suite" is a triumph that many viewers consider his finest production. His stars, Douglas Koger and Virginia Wagner, gave performances of a caliber rarely seen except on the professional stage. Their timing and dialogue were flawlessly executed and their feats of memory prodigious. The minor characters, Brother Aquila Gauthier as the sympathetic room service waiter, Lt. C.L. Onstad as the bellboy in Act One and the bridegroom in Act Three, Nannette Stroth as the alluring young secretary, and Lisa Wagner as the reluctant bride, all were so ideally cast and performed so perfectly that there was never a discordant note in the total harmony of this play.

One of the out-of-town judges summed it all up in a critique he wrote for the director. "I'm positive," he said, "that Neil Simon would have been pleased tonight, and accent that in the superlative degree. This production was quite perfect in character and would not fail to please any sophisticated audience. My compliments and bravo to the carpenter, to the director, to the supporting cast (who were stars in their own right), and to Mrs. Wagner and Mr. Koger for their beautifully diversified performances. I wish you could have gone on and on!"

One reason for such reactions from audience and judges alike was surely the exquisite stage setting, designed and constructed by technical director

Fred Wagner and decorated by producer Faltz Roger, both of whom had the help of a competent and dedicated backstage crew, including Rebecca Adams, herself an interior decorator. The greatest attention was paid to detail, as witness the Gideon Bible on the bedside table. Program acknowledgments for various furnishings included not only local and coast establishments but the Royal Orleans Hotel (which supplied uniforms and a room service table) and the famed New York Plaza itself (which contributed such authentic props as the magazines, match folders, and door signs). No effort was spared to create a setting of elegance and beauty, and the results drew an outburst of applause each night as the curtain opened. In fact, attention to minute detail was evident in every facet of the show, and notably in the makeup and wigs which transformed the stars from one act to the next. Praise for this aspect of the show's success must go to Mr. Philip of the Ramada Inn Beauty Salon, who was himself a "miracle worker."

An interesting sidelight of the play is that audience included people who came to see it from not only Long Beach, Biloxi, and other coast cities, but also from Jackson, Slidell, Plaquemine, New Orleans, and even New York. Their enjoyment of the evening was heightened by the unusually lovely lobby display of antique dolls, shown by Mrs. Mabel Baumgartner of Waveland, and oil paintings shown by Pass Christian artist Mrs. Robb Sanford. The official cast and crew party, traditionally given following the final performance, was held at the home of Mrs. Leo Seal and was a memorable occasion for the Little Theatre.

While final play of the season, "The Velvet Glove," a repeat performance directed by Mrs. Laurie Klefer Byrd.

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

With all the hurricanes threatening the past week and rain every day it was a hectic week for fishing. Tides didn't know which way to go with East and Southeast winds prevailing continually. They were exceptionally high. Bass fishing is no good with East winds blowing, plus high tides which make most streams out of their banks. However, Sunday was an ideal day and bass and perch were caught most everywhere. Speckles were also gotten in different places, mostly on live shrimp. Some were even caught while fishing on the bottom with dead shrimp. Speaking of shrimp they were rather scarce due to the rough weather in outside waters. A few were caught off the seawall with cast nets. They were mostly small bait shrimp. Flounders are still being caught on the hook and line.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK—A lot of folks know Chester Bourgeois but they don't know that he is an ardent fisherman and shrimp. Chester fishes a lot and catches anything that bites. Learned it the hard way, he said.

Kenneth McCarty is back at fishing. Doing pretty good lately. Ken is also a hunter.

M.F. Cass returned Sunday to Hattiesburg after spending a week at his camp in Shoreline Park. Fished most everyday (when possible during showers). His camping companion was yours Truly.

This was sent in by Mrs. Giv Bratt of Fort Lee, New Jersey, an ardent reader of Kantcha Ketchum. We think it is good:

PATRIOTISM

A Dutchman was explaining the Netherlands flag to an American. "Our flag has a connection with our taxes," he said. "We get red in the face when we talk about them, white when we get the tax bills, and terribly blue when we pay them."

"That's just how it is in the U.S.A.," replied the American. "only we see stars, too."

Thanks Mrs. Bratt.

John Genli has returned to Ole Miss to complete his studies. He will return at vacation time to fish and play golf with his friends. His favorite sports.

Alden Mauffray is still catching his share of green trout. Caught a nice string of them Sunday. They were hitting surface baits, preferably the Repola on the spinning rod.

Dick Mesfayer and sons, Dick, Jr., and Allen are all ready to go dove hunting. Will forget fishing for a while.

Better have that hunting license when you go hunting. Observe the limit. It is an easy way to keep out of trouble with the Game Warden. Get a duck stamp if you intend to hunt ducks and geese.

Of all labor-saving devices for women, a husband is still the handiest.

Jerome Carver is one of our best fly fishermen. Jerome has been laying off for a while but should start back soon. He sports spots were up Dead River at English Bayou, Mike's River and in that territory where big bass live. Loves to enjoy a fish fry with his friends. One of the best salad makers.

Dave Ladner, retired from the Highway Bridge has been busy up his house. Too busy right now to go fishing. Dave used to catch plenty big speckles off the bridge when he was bridge tender. They are still around, Dave.

Emile Schindler, one of our best with a cast net, still predicts that shrimp will make their appearance along the seawall down Cedar Point way soon. Caught a few this week.

Wap Glover made a hurry up trip to the Bay over the weekend. Visited his sidekick Norman Benigno. Too busy working on his house to go fishing and crabbing. Wap enjoys using the fly rod. Catches his share of perch and bass.

John Garza doesn't claim to be much of a fisherman but does some crabbing. He enjoys eating them, too.

Ames-Russ and son Rusty of Poplarville will miss weekly trips since Ames' boat burned to the water as they were leaving Boudages Camp. In the speed boat recently, Ames and his son are ardent fishermen. There will be another boat folks, and fish will still be around.

Chester Bilbo, age 11, is an ardent fisherman. On a vacation trip recently to California he did some Grunton fishing and caught a few if you know what I mean! Grunton are caught by hand and are good eating. Chester does quite a bit of fishing locally.

Saw in the paper where Dr. Emile Bertucci, Jr. has entered the race for coroner of St. Bernard Parish. Doc is currently the medical director and chief of staff of the St. Bernard Parish Hospital and has been a resident of the parish since 1959. He has a home at Fenton. Does all kind of fishing and goes on every occasion. Pretty tough with a fly rod and casting. Good luck in your new adventure Doc. Sam Benigno gave me the paper on Doc.

Pope Senzeau goes fishing very often but fills the bill when it comes to eating them. Nothing better is his way of expressing it.

Al Mercier has just returned from a trip to Houston. Ready to go fishing. Al catches his share of fish, fresh and salt water.

Almost time to start trolling for green trout are caught mostly on under water baits such as black knots and spinners, treble hooks and yellow skirts with spinners and Bops, as or Rebel plugs. Troll close to the bank for best results. On warm days during winter they can be caught on surface baits on the fly rod.

Flounders are being caught while fishing on the bottom with dead bait. They will hit the stinky shrimp when dragged on the bottom. These baits are used on spinning and casting rods and are artificial lures.

Red fish will hit most any kind of bait. Dead shrimp, cut bait, salt water plugs. For best results fish in shallow water in grassy spots.

Ken Baudry has joined the bowling team at Jesuit High School in New Orleans. Ken qualified with flying colors and should be outstanding in future team play.

Glad to report that Jos. Benvenuti is doing O.K. after some illness and eye operation. Should be back to fishing soon.

FISHING RODEO

The Bay St. Louis Jaycees have announced plans for a fishing rodeo to be held Oct. 9 and 10. A registration booth and weigh-in station will be set up at the rock pile near the former American Legion Home and the fish will be displayed at the

County Fair

There will be an adult division and a junior division and prizes will be awarded in each division. Further details will be made available next week. Anyone interested in donating prizes for the rodeo should call Bob Boudin at 467-9961 or Bill Ireland at 467-4283.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

With all the hurricanes threatening the past week and rain every day it was a hectic week for fishing. Tides didn't know which way to go with East and Southeast winds prevailing continually. They were exceptionally high. Bass fishing is no good with East winds blowing, plus high tides which make most streams out of their banks. However, Sunday was an ideal day and bass and perch were caught most everywhere. Speckles were also gotten in different places, mostly on live shrimp. Some were even caught while fishing on the bottom with dead shrimp. Speaking of shrimp they were rather scarce due to the rough weather in outside waters. A few were caught off the seawall with cast nets. They were mostly small bait shrimp. Flounders are still being caught on the hook and line.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK—A lot of folks know Chester Bourgeois but they don't know that he is an ardent fisherman and shrimp. Chester fishes a lot and catches anything that bites. Learned it the hard way, he said.

Kenneth McCarty is back at fishing. Doing pretty good lately. Ken is also a hunter.

M.F. Cass returned Sunday to Hattiesburg after spending a week at his camp in Shoreline Park. Fished most everyday (when possible during showers). His camping companion was yours truly.

This was sent in by Mrs. Guy Bratt of Fort Lee, New Jersey, an ardent reader of Kantcha Ketchum. We think it is good.

PATRIOTISM

A Dutchman was explaining the Netherlands flag to an American. "Our flag has a connection with our taxes," he said. "We get red in the face when we talk about them, white when we get the tax bills, and terribly blue when we pay them."

"That's just how it is in the U.S.A.," replied the American. "only we see stars, too."

Thanks Mrs. Bratt.

John Genik has returned to Ole Miss to complete his studies. He will return at vacation time to fish and play golf with his friends. His favorite sports.

Alden Maufrey is still catching his share of green trout. Caught a nice string of them Sunday. They were hitting surface baits, preferably the Repola on the spinning rod.

Dick Meistayer and sons, Dick, Jr., and Allen are all ready to go dove hunting. Will forget fishing for a while.

Better have that hunting license when you go hunting. Observe the limit. It is an easy way to keep out of trouble with the Game Warden. Get a duck stamp if you intend to hunt ducks and geese.

Of all labor-saving devices for women, a husband is still the handiest.

Jerome Carver is one of our best fly fishermen. Jerome has been laying off for a while but should start back soon. His favorite spots were up Pearl River at English Bayou, Mike's and in that territory where big bass live. Loves to enjoy a fish fry with his friends. One of the best salad makers.

Dave Ladner, retired from the Highway Bridge has been fixing up his house. Too busy right now to go fishing. Dave used to catch plenty big speckles off the ledge when he was bridge tender. They are all around Dave.

Emile Schindler, one of our best with a cast net, still predicts that shrimp will make their appearance along the seawall down Cedar Point way soon. Caught a few this week.

Wap Glover made a hurry up trip to the Bay over the weekend. Visited his sidekick Norman Benigno. Too busy working on his house to go fishing and crabbing. Wap enjoys using the fly rod. Catches his share of perch and bass.

John Garza doesn't claim to be much of a fisherman but does some crabbing. He enjoys eating them, too.

Ames Russ and son Rusty of Poplarville will miss weekly trips since Ames' boat burned to the water as they were leaving Boudages Camp. In the speed boat recently. Ames and his son are ardent fishermen. There will be another boat folks, and fish will still be found.

Chester Bilbo, age 11, is an ardent fisherman. On a vacation trip recently to California he did some Grunion fishing and caught a few if you know what I mean. Grunion are caught by hand and are good eating. Chester does quite a bit of fishing locally.

Saw in the paper where Dr. Emile Bertucci, Jr., has entered the race for coroner of St. Bernard Parish. Doc is currently the medical director and chief of staff of the St. Bernard Parish Hospital and has been president of the parish since 1959. He has a home at Penton. Does all kind of fishing and goes on every occasion. Pretty tough with a fly rod and casting. Good luck in your new adventure Doc. Sam Benigno gave me the paper on Doc.

Pope Senzeau goes fishing very often but the bill when it comes to eating them. Nothing better is his way of expressing it.

Al Mercier has just returned from a trip to Houston. Ready to go fishing. Al catches his share of fish, fresh and salt water.

Almost time to start trolling for green trout are caught mostly on under water baits such as black knots and spinners, treble hooks and yellow skirts with spinners and Repas or Rebel plugs. Troll close to the bank for best results. On warm days during winter they can be caught on surface baits on the fly rod.

Flounders are being caught while fishing on the bottom with dead bait. They will hit the smoky shrimp when dragged on the bottom. These baits are used on spinning and casting rods and are artificial lures.

Red fish will hit most any kind of bait. Dead shrimp, cut bait, salt water plugs. For best results fish in shallow water in grassy spots.

Ken Baudry has joined the bowling team at Jesuit High School in New Orleans. Ken qualified with flying colors and should be outstanding in future team play.

Glad to report that Jos. Benvenuti is doing O.K. after some illness and eye operation. Should be back to fishing soon.

Auxiliary Attends Convention

Department of Mississippi Delegates of Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of World War I have returned from their National Convention held in Houston,
Texas, Sept. 4-8.

Department president
Pauline Chappin says it was a most successful convention.
Mississippi won 30 awards among which were the "Travelling Trophy" for the highest percentage of gain in membership over last year, and the award for the first department to receive 100 percent of last year's membership.

This is the second time Miss.
has received the trophy, having won it year before last, and it is considered quite an honor for these ladies. Over 50 Miss.
delegates attended the convention, a chartered bus carried over 30 from the coast.

Local delegates were: Dept.
Pres. Pauline Chappin; Dept.
Guard Leola Harvey; Ella Mae
Mercler; Sarah Thorne; Eithel
Fritsch and Marguerite
Powell from the auxiliary and
Dept. QM Harold Powell,
Barracks Comm. Mjr. Charles Harvey and A.C. Mercler from the Buddies.

This convention was a most rewarding one in that these "Old Timers" of veterans organizations are finally receiving some recognition in Congress. Congressman Olin Teague of Texas, spoke at the banquet on legislation he has introduced in Congress to get pensions for these WWI veterans that deserve so much but have received so little.

If you are a World War I veteran or wife or widow of same join the organization and help us in the fight to get what we deserve. Call Pres. Chappin at 547-7255 or QM Powell at 467-6285 for information.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE UNIT SYSTEM?
OUR BOARD OF SUPERVISORS IS IMPLE-MENTING THE UNIT SYSTEM AND THIS IS GREAT FOR HANCOCK COUNTY. THE APPLICATIONS ARE IN AND, ACCORDING TO THE LAST RESOLUTION, AN ENGINEER
SHOULD BE HIRED BY OCT. 1st. SINCE IT HAS ALREADY COST THE COUNTY $60 THOUSAND A YEAR FOR ENGINEERING AND SUPERVISION IT SHOULD BE A REAL COST SAVING TO THE COUNTY TO HAVE THIS NEW SYSTEM. WE SHOULD GET MORE FOR OUR TAX DOLLAR AND WE DON'T NEED
NEW MILLAGE FOR THIS PROGRESSIVE STEP.

OLD NEWSPAPERS WELCOMED
For many years the Brothers of St. Augustine Seminary has collected old newspapers to sell for the benefit of the Seminary.
We are grateful to our long and faithful clients, and we welcome new ones. The newspapers can be deposited in the paper shed on Ruella next to our truck garage. If you cannot easily locate it, just ask any of the fathers, novices, brothers or students to direct you.
Due to an increasing amount of work at the Seminary and the shortage of brothers, it is no longer possible for us to come to your homes to pick up the paper.
In addition to discarded newspapers, old clothing and just plain rags are welcome as they have a commercial value. Unfortunately, old magazines cannot be sold. So please, no magazines.
Again we would like to take this opportunity to thank all our friends for their interest and help in the past, and at the same time we hope to make new ones who would like to bring their old newspapers to our paper shed on Ruella at the Seminary.

Brother James S. V.B.
